

Handwriting practice lines with dotted characters for tracing. The text is arranged in six rows on a set of four horizontal lines (top, middle, baseline, and descender line). The characters are a mix of letters and symbols, designed for children to learn letter formation and spacing.

